DEAF MUTE SWINDLER IN JAIL

FRANK STUTZMAN CAPTURED IN PORTLAND, OREGON

The deaf of the United States and Canada will be glad to hear that Frank Stutzman, the deaf-mute swindler, has at last landed in jail at Portland, Oregon. Arrested in Salem, Stutzman was returned to Portland, where he pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses. The judge sentenced him to six months, three months of the term being suspended after the federal officers took a hand by declaring he was wanted for violating the Mann act. The woman with him was held as witness, and then freed after it was found he had forced her to accompany him.

Stutzman's scheme was a good one—while it lasted. In some parts of Canada and the United States he obtained money by representing himself as an agent from Hodgson, editor of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL to raise funds for the deaf-mutes in Germany. When questioned closely, he would show books containing the names and address of prominent deaf men and women. After the names were written large sums of money that he said had been lent to him for the purpose of banking it in New York. After six months the interest was to be withdrawn and sent to the Germans, and the principal was then to be taken out and the deaf handed back the money they had contributed. After seeing the names of friends in the book and the large sums of money said to have been given to the cause, the victim usually thought the scheme safe and would also contribute.

In other parts of Canada it has been learned that Stutzman would represent himself as a member of the N. F. S. D., sent from the United States to get the Canadian deaf to join the Society. He obtained twenty dollars each from two deaf men in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, who wished to join the N. F. S. D., and were unsuspicious until after it was too late to capture him. Whether he worked this scheme in the United States is not known, but it is thought unlikely.

From Canada he returned to the United States and stopped in Seattle. Here he interested the deaf by representing himself as the son of a wealthy tailor living in Chicago. He asked for no contributions to any worthy (?) cause, so the Seattle deaf looked upon him merely as a visitor from the east. A few days later, Olaf Hanson of Seattle received word from Tacoma that this same man, under another name, was again trying the scheme to raise money for German deaf-mutes. Mr. Hanson hastily sent a telegram to Portland, warning the deaf against Stutzman.

Stutzman arrived in Portland the 17th of March. That evening he entertained a small party of Portland deaf at the home of George Kreidt. He again talked about the Germans and asked aid to help them. Several of the deaf gave small sums of money. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, he visited other homes and met more of the deaf, from whom he was able to get money. Saturday afternoon, believing he had better leave before the deaf victims became suspicious, he left with his woman companion on the afternoon stage for Salem. As good luck would have it, Charles Lynch caught sight of them. Lynch had never met them, so was curious to know who the deaf couple might be. Before he was able to introduce himself the stage left.

About this time Mr. Reichle received word form Seattle about this couple. When they did not show up at the Saturday night social, he warned the deaf, went to the police station and was told to get a warrant for their arrest the following Monday.

Alva D. Allen, one of the victims, decided to become a deaf Sherlock Holmes. Sunday morning he went to Salem, and with his aid the couple were arrested and held in Salem until a warrant could be secured from Portland. This was obtained by Allen on Monday, and Tuesday, March 25th, they were brought to Portland by the police.

At the police station in Portland the pair confessed they were not married. This caused the federal officers to look into the case. The woman showed black and blue bruises all over her arms and legs, where the man had hit and kicked her when she tried to leave him. Bringing her into different States and misusing her may go hard with Stutzman, if later proven guilty of white slavery. The woman was released after acting as witness against him, so no photo of her will appear in the papers unless it is found later that she is accused of doing anything wrong Then photo of her may be had from Mrs G. L. Deliglio, 291 San Rafael Street, Portland, Oregon.

Proof that this man is the one wanted in Canada and the United States was obtained from the luggage with him In it was found silverware, hand-painted china, and other articles believed by the police to have been stolen. If any one can indentify what was stolen from them, a description should be sent to Mrs. Deliglio at the above address, and the articles will be returned if it is possible to do so. Stutzman and the woman lived on the money taken from the deaf, so it will be impossible for any of the victims to recover any money that was given to him.

Stutzman has been traveling under various alias and his real name is still in doubt. The woman says she believes his name to be Ed. Krieder, but this may not prove correct. Others think his name is Sullivan. He has taken the name of Brant, Sullivan, Stutzman, Clark, Kidder, Krieder, and Cowles. This has been proven through a large bundle of letters addressed to him under his different names. The deaf in Portland and Seattle would be glad to learn his real name if possible. Other information about this man should be given, or asked for, by communicating with Mrs. Deliglio, or Mr. John O Reichle, 900 East 6th Street, North Portland, Oregon.

READING, PA.

James E. Scheck and Miss Nora Erb, both of this city, were quietly married by a hearing clergyman, March 1st. The couple for the present are housekeeping at 340 N. Fourth Street, and have the well wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fritz entertained a group of the younger set, Saturday, March 29th. A Dutch luncheon was served and enjoyed by all present. The writer not being present, fuller details are lacking though one humorous incident was possibly called to his attention. As any one knows a Dutch luncheon can hardly be complete without limburger cheese. It was served, and incidentally was the first time Miss Florence Lacey ever tasted it. She was handed a sandwich, and not knowing its contents showed a keen liking for it. However when later told of the contents, she did not relish the idea so well.

The youngest daughter of Mrs Miriam Clayton was dangerously ill with pneumonia, but at this writing is well out of danger and on a fair way to recovery.

The ice cream festival was held under the auspices of Reading Division, No 54, N. F. S. D., Saturday, January 7th, 1924, at Red Men's Hall, from 4 to 10 P.M.

The event always is a red letter day in local Fratdom, although a larger hall is rented, a larger crowd is usually taken care of, and net profits of this annual affair seems to be increasing each year. Members and friends residing outside are welcome.

"Acres of Diamonds" is the subject of a lecture to be given by W. H. Lipsett, of Philadelphia, for the benefit of Reading Division, No 54, April 12th, at their hall, 612 Court Street, at 8 P.M.

TORONTO TIDINGS

Miss Margaret Ross, daughter of Mr. W. J. Ross, who came to this city from Bracebridge recently, has secured a nice situation as operator at the Broadview branch of the Bell Telephone Company, of Canada.

The Ladies' Aid of our church held its regular meeting on March 20th, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Byrne, Honorary President of this society. The chief gist that came up for discussion was in regard to our coming Bible Conference at Easter.

The chief topic of conversation among our friends here and all arounnd, is in regard to our forthcoming convention at Belleville in June. From present indications this is going to be a record breaker.

Mrs. H. W Roberts visited Mr. and Mrs John Dean and Mrs. David Humbly at Nobleton on March 18th She says Mrs Humbly is failing a little bit, due to her advanced age, for she now carries the snows of fourscore and four years

Mr William Gray, who has been putting up a hard fight against the inroads of rheumatic fever for over six weeks, returned to his post of duty at the Brigden Lithographing Co., on March 21st. He has lost a considerable amount of his superfluous flesh.

The subject at our Epworth League on March 19th, was on why so many people build for nothing but posterity and notoriety, rather than follow the example of Joshua.

Mr. John R. Newell, of Milton, was in our midst over Sunday, March 23d, visiting his daughter and old friends. We were glad to see him.

Mr. John T. Shilton entertained a large gathering at the Brigden Club headquarters on March 22d, on the mysterious story of the "Mystery of the Four Fingers." The crowd was kept in a cosmos of the deepest interest as the lecturer unravelled mystery after mystery in connection with the story The principal figure in the whole narrative was an American multi-millionaire who was driven to worry and self destruction. The speaker was given a hearty vote at the close.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Parker, of Colborne, spent their honeymoon in this city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Eastman.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McGillivray and Mr. Horace Greig visited Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell, in Birch Cliffe, one day recently

"Invitation" was the subject which Mr. Colin McLean took up in his well defined sermon on March 23d, saying the greatest invitation ever extended to mortals is always coming to us from our Great Comforter, no matter how we are, who we are, or what we are. Will you accept it and be happy evermore? Mr. McLean is becoming a very forceful speaker. Mrs. N. Moore rendered with charm the enticing hymn, "Sun of My Soul"

Mr. Silas Baskerville, who has been working in Aurora for several months past, has now secured a steady position at a stationery firm on Bay Street, in this city, and we welcome him back again.

After a three week's absence at her parental home in Stirling, Miss Pearl Herman returned to our midst again on March 22d. She enjoyed her visit in the quiet embrace of the open country

A little daughter came to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Colcough recently, thus they now have a boy and a girl.

Mr and Mrs. Alex Lyons, the latter of whom is a hearing sister of Mr. James Goodbrand, of Windsor, entertained Mr. and Mr. Robert Sutton to a delightful tea at their beautiful country home on the Paris Road lately. Afterwards the four visitors preferred to tramp back to their homes, which they did like young urchins gamboling through the snow drifts. All four had acquired this habit of muscular exercise while pupils at the Belleville School in days of yore. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are contemplating taking a trip to California for a year's vacation.

Mrs. James Braven was in Hamilton lately, visiting her daughter for several days.

On their return home after a visit here, Mrs. J. A. Moynihan and daughter, Beverley, were accompanied by Mr. Robert Sutton, and the three stopped over and had tea with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coles in Galt, on their way home on March 22d.

BRANTFORD BRIEFS

Mrs. Frank Baumghart and her niece visited relatives in Hamilton recently and report a dandy time.

Mrs A. E Smith, of Burford, was among the jolly revellers at the Teague reception on March 19th, and like the rest had a whale of a time. She has quite recovered from the bad accident that laid her up for so long.

Miss Margaret Kennedy invited a goodly number of her deaf friends to a jolly party at the Y. M. C. A on March 22th, in honor of her natal day.

Mrs. Krouse, a sister of Mrs Bamber Brown, received a severe shock recently, which laid her up for several weeks in the hospital We trust her recovery will soon come.

Miss Louisa Forysthe, of St. George, who came in to attend the Teague reception on March 19th, was the guest of Mr and Mrs. Robert Sutton.

While in Brantford before and after the Teague reception, Mrs John A. Moynihan and daughter, Beverley, of Waterloo, called on many of their old friends. Mrs. Moynihan was formerly Miss Lucile Bennett, of Washington, D. C., and came to Canada to live with her grandmother here after graduating from Gallaudet College at Washington, in 1900. She was subsequently married to Mr. John A. Moynihan, who commands a lucrative position in Waterloo.

On March 19th upwards of forty-five of the deaf of this city and country side gave a reception to the newly-wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Teague. An address was first read in eulogistic terms, after which they were presented with a handsome water set in pure cut glass by their assembled friends, also a cut glass set of salt and pepper sifters by the same company Mrs. J. A. Moynihan and daughter, Beverley, of Waterloo, who were present, also gave the happy couple a teapot and cover, the cosy of which Mrs. Moynihan had knitted that day for them. Many other beautiful gifts which the couple had received in Toronto and elsewhere were displayed and much admired, testifying to the young couple's popularity. A very palatial lunch was then served, and after several bad made humorous and uplifting addresses, all went home happy. Mr. and Mrs. Teague are now living at 321 Rawdon Street in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton entertained a number of friends on March 21st, to a farewell party in honor of Mrs. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, who went home next day. A good time had they all.

On Saturday evening March 15th Mr John Taylor, of Singhampton, drove over to Horning Mills and took the Middleton family by surprise, when he turned up at their beautiful farm home unheralded Mr. Taylor had by accident dropped in on Miss Helen A. Middleton's natal day, and remained over until the following Monday afternoon. John is independent and as free of care as a morning skylark.

We were very sorry to hear that Mr. William Douglas, who was supervisor of boys and later store keeper at the Belleville School in years gone by, had his home and all its contents destroyed by a very bad and destructive fire on his fruit farm at Kelowna, B. C., a short time ago. Those who were at school during his incumbency of these two officers will remember how warm an interest he took in the deaf, especially the various athletic clubs of our Alma Mater, of which he was a prominent official. His frugal habits and manly mien endeared him to the hearts of his old boys and girls.

In a lengthy and very interesting letter just received from Miss Sarah Templeton, a former teacher in the Belleville School, but now of Edmonton, Alberta, she pays a very high tribute to Mr. R. Mathison, who was for many years—to wit 27 years—Superintendent of the Belleville School, until the telling of age compelled him to give up his official duties. She says the giftgiving of an oil painted portrait of himself is a most worthy of the fullest endorsement.

A very interesting wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents in Cobourg, on March 19th, when Miss Dorothy Moore was united in marriage to Mr. Clifford Parker, of Colborne, in the presence of a large assembly. The happy young couple immediately left for a short honeymoon trip to Toronto. Both graduated from the Belleville School a few years ago.

We regret to hear that Mr. Ernest Hackbusch, of Hamilton, lost his father on March 22d, from the effects of an incurable cancer, followed by a stroke. He was 77 years of age. Ernie and his relatives have our heartfelt sympathy.

The Deaf Recreation Club, of London, held a St. Patrick social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher on March 22d, and great time was put in by the goodly crowd present. Mr. Charles A. Ryan, of Woodstock, President of the club, was on hand as usual, and was most instrumental in making the affair a success Next day Mr. Arthur H. Jaffray, of Toronto, conducted the Sunday meeting at the Y. M. C. A, and there was a very good crowd present, though none came in from adjacent points, on account of the muddy condition of the roads.

Contrary to his usual custom, Mr. Thomas A Middleton, of Horning Mills, is not making any maple syrup this season. Tom finds he has a lot of other work to do, that he has to let this profitable pastime stand by for this season at least In years gone by, the Middleton maple syrup was a most palatial dish on many a breakfast table among both the deaf and hearing all around

The late Sir Byron Edmund Walker, President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and connected with more than a dozen other public Institutions, who died here, on March 19th, was a brother of Miss Isabel M. Walker, of Hamilton Miss Walker was for many years the kind and industrious matron of the Belleville School for the Deaf, under Superintendent Mathison.

Mr. Shilton's subject at our Epworth League, on March 26th, dwelt on Joshua's second glorious victory against Satan and his hosts, Joshua using that mighty weapon war—The Sword of the Spirit.

Mrs. Wilfrid Maginn and daughter, Kathleen, of King, were visiting the former's aunt, Mrs. H W. Roberts, at "Mora Glen," and other relatives, for several days lately. Mr. Maginn was also in during the last few days of their visit.

We regret to say that Mrs R. C. Slater is seriously ill at the time of writing, but we sincerely trust she be on the sunny side of health ere long. She is very highly esteemed among the deaf here.

The large crowd that was at the Brigden Club, on March 29th, certainly had a great time, for the program was divided into three amusing parts. First came the impromptu debate, on "Resolved, that flowing tresses are more beneficial to the ladies than bobbed hair" Mrs. F. E Doyle and Mr. John T. Shilton supported the custom that has been in existence since God created woman, and Miss Marion Powell (herself a bobby) and Mr. H. E. Grooms stood for the modern fad and craze among the maidens. There were scenes of much laughter as each side wrangled for supremacy, but the judges, Mrs. H. W. Roberts, Mrs C. R. Ford and Mr. W. C. Mackay, brought in a verdict in favor of the ancient tradition, by a few points.

Then came April Fool stories, in which many gave amusing and laughable anecdotes.

Finally we had an hour of fun in the western game of "Scandal Chasing," introduced by Mr. Edgar Ever Clayton, who came here from Comox, B. C., a few years ago.

Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Mabel Wilson attended the funeral of the late Mrs. William Sutton, in Simcoe, on April 3d.

Mr. J. T. Shilton has received and accepted an invitation to speak in Detroit, on April 12th, under the auspices of the Detfoit Division, N. F. S. D.

On March 31st, Mrs. Nancy Moore gave a large and very pleasant birthday party for Mrs. Mabel Wilson, who has been Mrs. Moore's personal companion for the past fourteen years. The affair was featured by the surprise presentation of a good sum of money to Mrs. Wilson by the large crowd present. Mrs. Wilson was so visibly affected by such a token, that she burst into tears. An appropriate address, couched in the highest praise of her gentleness of manner and heart of love, was read to her by H. W. Roberts, after Mr. A. H. Jaffray had made the presentation. The rest of the evening was devoted to fun and games.

LONDON LEAFLETS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul, of St. Thomas, were in this city to attend our St. Patrick party on March 22d

Mr. Arthur H. Jaffray, of Toronto, gave a very implicit address at the Y. M. C. A., on March 23d, on the subject "Disease and its Only Remedy"

Miss Clara Balkwell was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher for a few days. She has now gone to her parental home in Exeter.

Mrs. Agnes Jolly, whose husband and only daughter died not very long ago, has been very seriously ill in the Amasa Wood Hospital in St. Thomas lately, but latest reports state that the worst is over.

Mr. Isaac Cornford, who had the misfortune to cut one of his fingers very badly while cutting wood recently, which laid him up for six weeks, is now back on his job at the McCormick biscuit works.

Mrs. David Dark lately lost her 84 year-old father by death. She has our deepest sympathy.

Mr. A. H. Cowan received word on March 21st to the effect that his third brother, Thomas F., had crossed the Eternal bar on that date in far away Seattle, Washington.

Mrs. Richard Leathorn, who was terribly burned in a lamp explosion at her home last November, is still lingering in Victoria Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fisher were in St Thomas on March 30th, where the former conducted divine service to the deaf of that city. Mr. A. H. Cowan took charge of the meeting here in Mr. Fisher's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. James Back moved on to their new farm, just outside of this city, on March 10th.

The St. Patrick party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, on Edward Street, was a corker from a pleasure point of view.

Mr. Herbert Wilson has returned from his visit to Detroit.

Mrs. Eddie Fishbein is expecting a visit from her brother in New York shortly, and on his return Mrs. Fishbein may accompany him to Gotham.

WOODSTOCK WAVES

Miss Iva Hughes, who was obliged to relinquish her duties for a few weeks, on her physician's advice, is now convalescent and back at her daily toil again.

We regret to say that a very nasty accident befell the oldest sister of Miss Jennie Broom recently While descending the cellar stair way, she missed her footing and went tumbling down the flight of steps to the bottom However, no bones were broken, though her leg and arm were severely bruised. She is now progressing favorably.

Mr. Charles A. Ryan attended the St. Patrick social in London, on March 22d, under the "Forest City" Athletic Club, of which he is President.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. Edward Crozier, of Springvale, was in Hamilton recently, calling on his sister, Mrs. Saunders

We all sympathize with Mr. Healey Grant, of Hamilton, on the death of his beloved sister, Mrs. Henry Kent, who ceased this mortal life on March 22d.

For the second time within a few years, Mr Oliver Nahrgang has had a sale of his farm stock and chattels. The auction took place on his farm near Ayr, on March 12th, and was a pronounced success, the prices realized being very high.

We learn with regret of the death, on April 1st, of Mrs William Sutton, of Simcoe.

Miss Mary McQueen, of Guelph, was in Hamilton for several days lately, attending the death bed, and subsequent funeral, of an aged aunt, who fell into her last sleep on March 12th.

Mr. Isaiah Nahrgang, wife and daughter, of Speedville, took a trip to Hespeler, on March 16th, where they visited relatives.

After wondering for many years, since she disappeared from our horizon almost a decade ago, we have located the whereabouts of our old friend, Mrs. Read, better known as Miss Florence Maybee, when she was for many years a gifted teacher at the Belleville School. She is now living in retirement and contentment as a widow in Alameda, California. Like many hundreds of others, she has gladly sent in her donation to the Mathison Oil Painting and Testimonial Fund, which we thankfully acknowledge.

Mr. Robert Sutton, of Brantford, has returned home after a very pleasant sojourn with Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moynihan in Waterloo.

KITCHENER KINDLINGS

Miss Margaret Golds took a trip to Galt, Preston and Speedville, one Sunday lately.

Mrs. Delman Hunsperger, of Preston, was in this city the other day, and gave her brother, Mr Allen Nahrgang, a sisterly call.

Mr. Walter Nahrgang and family, of New Hamburg, while on their way home from attending his father's sale in April, stopped over for a day here, calling on friends and relatives. Like his father, Walter always exudes the atmosphere of the farm.

Miss Evelyn Golds has returned from a jolly outing on the farm near Centreville.

A very interesting and well directed address was given at our Sunday meeting here, on March 23d, by Mr. S. R. Byrne, of Toronto, before a good attendance. Among those who came in from outside points were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coles and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clements, of Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Nahrgang and daughter, Ruth, of Speedville, Mr. and Mrs. Absolom Martin, of Waterloo, Mrs. Stewart Robertson, of Preston, and Mrs. Adeline Hamilton and Miss Mary McQueen, of Guelph. Mr. Byrne was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Williams, and this was the first time he had been here in three years, hence his hearty welcome.

The co-operative movement is gaining strength in this country. It is fostered by the government in the old countries. The Reclamation Service urges and enforces co-operation among its water users. In Denmark, the government loans money outright or purchases the necessities in the case of a farmer or farmhand wanting to own his own place, and gives long time credit with easy terms. In Germany, a system of land credit banks have been very successful. A group of ten or more farmers or business men or working men form themselves into an association with officers (the village schoolmaster is often the secretary and treasurer) to borrow money from the government, to loan to themselves. Being held collectively and individually responsible, they are very careful about the amount loaned and the purposes of the loan. The credit is long and easy. These small banks have been remarkably successful. In Canada, the government subsidizes ex-service men in the purchase of land and equipment on long time credit, and furnishes expert supervision. The latest report shows the total loss on non-payment to be less than half of one per cent, and that loss will be more than made up by the interest received on the other loans.

The Anderson and Wofforth Furniture Manufacturing Company held its second meeting in the school building, at 60th and Vermont. I was the scapegoat. I made adverse comments on the scheme. But information was given out that made out the company to be with real possibilities.

I objected to the suggestion to mortgage homes to invest in the stock. The argument is, the mortgage earns 7 per cent interest while the stock has a prospective earning of 20 per cent at the start and of 100 in the future. Wages are supposed to help pay off the mortgage, too. I wanted a certified public accountant to audit the books and publish the facts. I insisted that no income may be possible for the first two or three years. I also said that the stockholders must expect to stay with the business in its failures or struggles before they can expect success. I reiterated that sentiment has no place in business.

The incorporators, I admit, seem to be honest and sincere, but substantial security must be behind the company and periodic auditing of the books must be made, to protect the stockholders. If the scheme is made to work, it will mean a great future for the deaf. I am for it if stockholders are safeguarded. The products to be manufactured are not made on this coast, but all imported in knock downs and assembled by jobbers. Publicity or adverse comment can not hurt honesty and sincerity long, coupled with wise management. Be sure you are right, then fight on and learn to succeed. My personal equation does not enter into the question or debate. What I was after, was the possibility of success, and the protection of the stockholder.

Messrs. Barrett and Levi Larson go to San Diego, and Messrs. Rothert and Reddick to San Franisco territory, to interest outside deaf in the company. Later other States will be exploited to get the necessary capital.

Omar Smith was given a surprise Tuesday for his birthday, by his friends. The present was a gold Elgin watch. Frank Burson worked two jokes on the company. He stuck one middle finger through a small box and announced his gruesome discovery of a dismembered finger. He blindfolded Mr. Bulmer, arranged one of the latter's hands on a pillow laid on the lap, draped a cloth around the hand and decorated the hand, so it looked like a newly born babe, with the other arm fondly supporting the whole outfit. Great was the embarrassment of Mr. and Mrs. Bulmer.

"Yes, it's too bad, but as to his cleverness, I don't agree with you," said Mr. Smith. "He had a certain ability to get the best end of a bargain, and yet make it appear to be an honest transaction. He was expert at 'putting it over,' as the boys say.

"You remember the days when we traded marbles? George would come to school with a pocketful of cheap, chipped off marbles, but before noon he would have them all traded off for perfect ones. The boys could not tell how it was done, but George could make them think it was all right.

"There was something mysterious about his examination papers. The teacher knew they were not the result of study. She felt sure there was something dishonest about them, but she couldn't find out what. George was never caught any school scrapes; it was always the other fellow who got caught and punished. George certainly knew how to put it over the rest of us in school.

"Later, when he became a clerk in the grocery store, he was very successful in disposing of stale goods. He would fill orders with wilted celery and wormy raisins, and the proprietors were delighted, for there was nothing to throw away on Monday morning. If anyone complained, George could always convince them that the 'other clerk' had filled the order. He grew more and more skillful in putting it over every year.

"On account of his shrewdness, folks predicted that he had a great future before him, and he became rather conceited. So he went further, and began to practice little dishonesties with money, giving short change to customers who did not bother to count it. Of course, there was another step just ahead—George tampered with the money drawer. He took just a little bit at first, but gained confidence when he was not found out, and kept at it. He must have better clothes; he must spend money more freely; he must keep a little ahead of the other fellows. By that time he had full belief that he could keep putting it over everyone.

"He tried it once too often. We say it was the 'last time' that put him in the penitentiary, but I am inclined to think it was the first time; that he started in that direction during the marble-trading days back in the school yard, when he gloried in his ability to put it over his playmates.

"We sometimes like to jump the hard places, to cut across the fields, and we think that we are making headway swiftly; but the long cobblestone road of strict honesty will bring us, in the long run, to a safer landing place. The ability to put it over isn't the best qualification for real success. Boys like George, even if they escape punishment, do not become men to whom anyone in their community can point with pride."—Ex.

And They Were Not Dizzy Either

During the Civil War, we read in the Argonaut, a troop of Confederate mountain cavalry had been ordered to proceed to the relief of a certain town. Before they could reach the town the Federal forces were in command of the place. The troop arrived in the night, and not caring to mix unnecessarily with the superior force of Union soldiers, turned round and rode out of the town by the first gate and road that they found.

Before them stretched a fine smooth highway, and they took to it for all they were worth. They rode all night without passing any villages or signs of civilization. The countryside seemed not only deserted but very monotonous. When the sun peeped over the Blue Ridge Mountains the captain drew up suddenly.

"What's the matter, sir?" asked his lieutenant.

"Why, look here, sir," roared the captain, "we've been galloping around a race track all night!"

The first fire engine used in the United States was brought from England to New York in 1731.

XAVIER EPHPHETA SOCIETY NOTES

Bad weather did not lessen a good attendance at the X. E. S April meeting, a half hundred or more being present.

Rev. Father Egan's sermon letter was read by President Fives. With allowance given the latter in memorizing the subject, a day or two in advance, Ephphetans would find in President Fives an interesting and able interpreter.

Father Egan announced for next Sunday—Palm Sunday at 3 P.M., in the lower. church, devotions of the Way of the Cross. A large attendance is anticipated at this annual repetition of the solemn service. Ephphetans are urged to have their hearing friends attend.

Other announcements made were postponement of "King Robert of Sicily" until September. In May, a movie show will be given by Father Egan at the College Theatre. On the fourth Sunday of that month, the X. E S., Brooklyn Auxiliary, the Abbe De l'Epee Club, will entertain. Both affairs will benfit the X. E. S. Sick Relief Fund.

In a big storm coat President S. J. Fogarty was a late arrival. An excuse may be offered, with the distance he has to travel from far-away Flushing considered.

While not rated a billionaire, friends of Sylvester may be pleased to note the Fogarty old homestead, known as Locust Lawn Farm, has been taken over by a syndicate, who are to lay it out in building lots for disposal. The price paid by the purchasers for the property is around $200,000

All het up apropos his coming trip to St. Paul, as Bronx Division delegate, Joe Graham only had a few minutes at disposal for after-service chat. Like numerous other Ephphetans, enrolled as members of local Frat Divisions, Graham hopes to add his mite to the momentous settlement of a Ladies' Auxiliary to the N. F. S. D.

Johnny O'Brien, was one of the once-in-awhile attendants at the X. E. S. meeting. He's coming again and oftener hereafter, he quoted, and may some day preside as President of the X. E. S

A new and enlarged gym for the Xavier H. S. boys will do away with the Xavier Alumni Chapel, in Xavier College, where in the X. E S. have held services for a score and more years What was known as Ephpheta Hall during the late Father McCarthy's directorate, will be coverted into a chapel, and here in Ephphetans will hold their meetings.

Jimmy Lonergan can't see why folks should worry over having music at meal time. He suggests if the hostess will always have soup listed on the menu, the expense of music will be easily taboo.

The following is taken from the New York World of April 5th. The victim was probably a hard-of-hearing woman—not a deaf-mute.

"Unable because of deafness to hear the warning horn of an approaching truck, Mrs. Carrie Fleischman, sixty years old, of 824 St. Nicholas Avenue, stepped in front of the vehicle at 152d Street and Amsterdam Avenue yesterday afternoon.

"The truck passed over her body and she was dead when six policemen lifted the rear wheel from her head. Although witnesses said Anthony Smith, of 546 West Fortieth Street, driver of the truck, had sounded his horn and applied the brakes, he was arrested on a charge of homicide. Mrs. Fleischman was a widow."

It isn't very often that one is surprised two days in succession. However, this was the case with Mrs. Louise Jastram. On Saturday evening, March 29th, her deaf friends gave her a surprise party in her apartment in Brooklyn. The table was prettily arranged in yellow and white, with a bouquet of daffodils in the center. Games were played and an enjoyable time had by all. Although the bad weather prevented several from attended, those present were: Misses Violet Hann, H. Anderson, Rachel Gantz, Mr. and Mrs. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Abrams and Mr. Anderson, Miss Minnie Jastram (Mrs. Jastram's daughter) and her friend Mr. Grandjian assisted. On Sunday, the day following, twenty-two relatives and friends visited Mrs. Jastram in honor of her birthday. Many useful and lovely gifts were received.

THE "BLUE BIRDS."

It happened that on March 30th, the day was so lovely, the Bluebirds had a lovely time. They were invited to Mr. Frankenheim's house with their husbands and friends.

All the afternoon they had the pleasure of viewing the lovely pictures that Mr. Frankenheim took during his travels. The Blue Birds took a fancy especially to the collections he brought from Europe. He told them about his very interesting experiences on his travels.

The Blue Birds were feeling at home in his apartment and wished to stay a little longer, but Mr. Frankenheim told them that his apartment was too small for them to stay for supper. He said he had a nephew who lived downtown, who would be glad to have them come and have a good time in his house. At seven o'clock they were taken in taxi cabs, which brought them down town to Greenwich Village. They were wholly surprised that they were fooled. Any way they were so happy at that time. All of them entered the "Golden Gate," where everything ready awaited there. There they had a swell dinner and dances.

After they walked around the Greenwich Village, which was an odd sight, but a pleasant visit to them.

Before going home. The Blue Birds swarmed on Mr. Frankenheim and thanked him with all their hearts for such a nice time he planned for them.

Those who joined in that party were, besides Mr Frankenheim, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Seandel, Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Ciavolino, Misses Vera Hoffman, Rebecca Champagne, Rose Wax, Anna Jacobs and Clara Sylvester, and Messrs. Morris Kremen, Max Hoffman, Charles Sussman, and Henry Hester.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Simonson and Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Leow were also in the party.

The heavy snow storm or blizzard of April 1st, that raged all afternoon and night, and inconveniened people so much, did not prevent the Board of Governors of the Deaf Mutes' Union League from holding a meeting in the evening

Since the Deaf Mutes' Union League was organized in 1886, only once a meeting had to be postponed, and that was in 1888, when the famous blizzard of that year visited these parts, when it was nigh impossible for either being or beast to venture out.

Mr. Charles Golden, of this city, who has a good position in Stamford, Ct., as a compositor, finds Stamford very lonesome, so he makes week-end visits to this burg, Manhattan, New York.

On Saturday, March 29th, Mr. Golden was in town as usual, and being a member of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, he called at the rooms to meet some of his friends. Somehow he dropped his keys there, and on returning to Stamford, Ct., Y. M. C. A., where he makes his abode while there, he missed the keys, and was obliged to go to a hotel. Now his friends are poking fun about the matter, and calling him a millionaire for putting up at a hotel. Charles has met other misfortunes in the past, including being held up and assaulted, but never before having been obliged to put up at an expensive hotel. His friends may laugh, but he doesn't think it a laughing matter.

The watch dog of the League, Mr. Samuel Lowenberz, who by the way holds the double role of treasurer and secretary, restored the keys to Mr. Golden, and now he is happy once more. Here's hoping you do not experience any more misfortunes in the future.

The Fanwood Alumni Association holds its second annual banquet at the National Young Women's Christian Association Headquarters, 600 Lexington Avenue (52 and 53d Sts.) on Saturday evening, April 12th, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be speeches and some special kind of entertainment. Reservations must be made to Mrs. Edward Rappolt, 8534-110th Street, Richmond Hill, Long Island, N. Y, on or before April 10th. After that date no more reservations will be considered, as the committee must make the necessary arrangement, including the guarantee of the number that will be present.

Mr. Emil Basch, who has been staying in Liberty, N. Y, for the past year or so, is in the city to spend the holidays. Mr. Basch looks improved in health, having gained thirty pounds since going to Liberty. His friends hope he will keep on improving and ere long regain his former robust health.

Mrs. E. E Hannan returned to Washington, D. C., on Thursday last. She had been in New York City, staying with Miss E. H. Spanton for almost five months, and in Bermuda over a month, during which time Mr. Hannan built a new bungalow which they will occupy later on.

ALLENTOWN, PA.

On Saturday, March 29th, 1924, Mr. Harry Fernekees, of Allentown, tendered his wife, Ella, a surprise birthday party.

The evening was spent in playing games. A very nice lunch was served to those present, among whom were besides Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fernekees, Mr. Simon Fernekees, Mrs. Oscar Young, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Krause, Mrs. Anna Bradbury, Mr. and Mrs. Limburg and daughters, Violet and Priscilla, Mr. and Mrs. George Wachter. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallis and son, Henry, Miles D. Ehrich, James M. Ehrich, and others.

Everybody enjoyed the affair very much.

OHIO.

Between Saturday midnight and Sunday morning people in Columbus lost one hour of time, as Columbus was changed to eastern time to stay.

Miss Nora Patterson, who has long been a worker in the State bindery, has been compelled by failing health to give up her work, and has gone to Cleveland, where she will be under the care of relatives.

Mrs. Ella Sutton (Eila Murphy) has been admitted into the Ohio Home. Being badly crippled in both hands from rheumatism, housekeeping became too much for her. At one time she lived at Piqua, but later made her home in Mansfield.

The Columbus Branch of the N. A. D. had a meeting last Friday evening with a good attendance, considering the bad weather. After matters pertaining to the branch were disposed of, the members were entertained by Mr. Robert MacGregor on a platform, no matter what his topic is.

The Mansfield deaf will be treated to a reading on May 3d by Professor Leonce Odebrecht. After the reading there will be a social. The affair is in charge of Messrs Weber, Schwartz, Douglas and Miller.

Miss Pauline Sayre, of Columbus, has been in Mansfield as the guest of Mrs. Harry Small. It is reported that the deaf there who had been laid off for awhile, are being called back, as the Mansfield Rubber Works is picking up in business

The Silent Athletic Club of Mansfield is a very live wire, with Mr. Alva Cowden, President; Mr. Leroy Schwartz, Vice President; Mr. John Schild, Secretary; and Mr. Ralph Miller, Treasurer.

Miss Katherine Wagner, on account of ill health, has resigned as head teacher of sewing at the school. She had held that position for many years. Miss Kate Toskey has charge of her classes, in addition to her own department, for the present.

Mrs. William Livingston, of Richmond, was the guest of Mrs. Joseph Neutzling for a few days. Mrs. Livingston had been at Johnstown whither she was called by the death of her father, Mr. Dresbach, an old resident of that town.

The basket ball season closed with a fine dinner for the members of the first team and their girl friends. Mr. Winemiller and Miss Frost of the high school department were guests, as were Mr. and Mrs Ohlemacher and Miss Parhall, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan. The girls in the domestic science department prepared the dinner of fruit cocktail, veal loaf, escalloped potatoes, cabbage salad, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. All did full justice to the "eats," and Mr. Winemiller made all think of Oliver Twist in his constant calls for more. Coach La Fountain appeared proud of the boys. Later in the evening dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium

Mr. Grover C. Burcham was a caller at the school one day this week, looking the picture of health. Mr. Burcham is an expert marble cutter and is always busy. His employer considers him one of his very best workers. We are always glad to hear of the success of our former pupils. Tuesday it was flashed from finger to finger that Governor Donahey was to be our guest at chapel services, and preparations were hastily made to do our best—but, at the last minute a message came saying he would not be able to come. All were disappointed, but it passed by as a good April Fool joke. He may come before the close of school, but it is "business before pleasure" with Gov. Donahey.

Superintendent J. W. Jones received the following letter, which needs no explanations from us:

STATE OF OHIO
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

COLUMBUS, March 28, 1924

MR J. W. JONES, Supt. State School for the Deaf.
Columbus, O.

MY DEAR MR. JONES:—I desire to congratulate you on the excellent manner in which you conducted your institution during the past year. The people are entitled to a clean, honest adminstration of public affairs

As governor of our great State, I have tried to be honest and do my full duty. Being human, however, I have made some mistakes. But if our mistakes are of the head, and not of the heart, we can defend them and still have our self respect.

My one selfish ambition is to have the people of Ohio say, when we have completed our work. "They gave us an honest administration of the State government." Let us keep in mind alawys, in the words of one of the founders of our country, that "Public money should be touched with the greatest scrupulousness of honor, because it not only comes from the pockets of the well-to-do, but even the beggar in the street has his mite in the mass."

Your co-operation and confidence will be appreciated at any time you should hear remarks of law violation or bad public policy in any department of our government, I want you to report it to me and I will act promptly and keep your confidence.

I entreat you to give the best there is in you toward honest, lawful conduct of the State affairs, and if we succeed, in the years to come we can with pleasure say to one another. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Sincerely yours,
VIC DONAHEY.

In the family of Dr. Robert Patterson there was great rejoicing the other day, when they learned that Dr. Patterson's daughter-in-law had been appointed as a trustee of the Ohio State University, by the governor. It was rumored some time ago that the new trustee would be a woman, and the honor fell to Mrs. Alma W. Patterson of this city. She is the wife of Dr. Patterson's oldest son, who is at the head of the Ohio public Health Association. Mrs. Patterson is a typical Ohio woman, finely educated, interested in all public affairs, a worker in the cause of public service and a mother of three children—surely a woman of qualifications for such a high position. She was educated in the Columbus Public schools and graduated from the O. S U. This appointment will take her back to her alma mater. It is a distinguished honor surely, to be the first woman member of the board of trustees of the largest university in the State, and Dr. Patterson may well feel proud of the honors that have come to members of his family. E.

SOUTH DAKOTA NEWS.

The following births occurred since a few months:

To Mr. and Mrs. Ed. P. Olson, of Sioux Falls, a son named Lloyd Gersdorf Olson.

To Mr. and Mrs Roman Berke, of Britton, a son, January 31st, named Buddy Stearns Berke.

To Mr. and Mrs. Weber Wade, of National City, Col., a son, December 17th, named Wallace Berke Wade.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Proberts, of Sioux City, Ia., a daughter, October 26th, named Doris Ann Proberts. Died March 10th, of whooping cough.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Erickson (nee Nellie Devine), of Minneapolis, Minn., a son, March 8th.

Olof A. Olson, of Sioux Falls, is the proud owner of Overland Four Touring Car purchased last May.

Miss Marion Karney, a 1920 graduate of the Wisconsin School, after visiting with her uncle and aunt at Geddes, and sojourning in the Black Hills country for her health, came to Sioux Falls last August 14th, to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Olson several weeks, and she liked to stay in the city and applied for position as bookkeeper and typist, but she could not get a position, so she went to a private house of Mr. and Mrs. Richards, as housekeeper, at good wages.

Miss Sophia Larson, of Jasper, Minn., was helping Mrs. Roman Berke, Britton, since two months, because of the addition to Mrs. Berke's little family. She returned home two weeks ago.

Alfred Steen, of Sioux Falls a graduate of the Minnesota School, is an efficient linotype operator on the Hartford Herald.

D. J. Tieszen, of Marion Junction, brought some of his relatives in his car to Sioux Falls Monday, March 17th, to catch the 10:05 P.M. N. W. train. They came to visit Mr. Tieszen's mother, who is very ill. Mr. Tieszen stayed over night at the residence of the writer.

Many friends of Nellie Devine were surprised to hear that she was married to Ernest Erickson, a product of the Wisconsin School, last year. Mr. Erickson is employed in the coffin box factory in Minneapolis. Congratulations!

Many friends of Bryan J. Berke, a brother of Roman, at Britton, were also surprised to hear of his marriage to Miss Genevieve Schlachte, an aunt of Mrs. Ernest Erickson. Mr. Berke is still employed in the Washburn mills, Minneapolis.

The 160 acre farm near Harrisburg, where Peter L. Dalgoard had farmed about ten years, was auctioneered at a sale last year at $130 per acre by his father, of Los Angeles, Cal. The other one is also sold at $101 per acre, with fair buildings on, ten miles north of Beresford. Peter again farmed the same place on shares with the landlord of Canton last summer, and had a contract to farm it this year.

On Saturday afternoon, November 24th, Miss Marion Karney wanted to visit her cousin at Geddes, who was planning to leave for Arizonia for her health E. P. Olson took her along in his Ford Sedan. They left at 3 P.M. arriving at Geddes at 8 P.M., after 123 miles' drive. They left Geddes, Sunday at 6 P.M. for Mitchell and Sioux Falls, arriving at 11 P.M., after 140 miles' drive in five hours.

The South Dakota School team coached by Nick Peterson participated at the Missouri Valley Schools for the Deaf Basket Ball Tournament at the Nebraska School gymnasium, February 29th, and March 1st. The Kansas School team carried off the silver cup emblematic of the championship:

FIRST ROUND.

Iowa, 3	Nebraska, 25
Kansas, 14	South Dakota, 8

SECOND ROUND.

Iowa, 10	Kansas, 37
South Dakota, 11	Nebraska, 12

FINAL ROUND.

Iowa, 13	South Dakota, 10
Kansas, 25	Nebraska, 12

At the meeting of the Faribault Association of the Deaf, Thursday evening, February 28th, Mrs. Alby Peterson (nee Esther Tassler) declaimed the well-known poem, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight."

Friends of F. E. Worswick, in both Sioux Falls and the Twin Cities, are pleased to learn that he, has a good steady position as engraver, and also a cozy hive of his own, besides his Ford Sedan in Los Angeles, Cal. Some years ago he, in company with R. W. Williams, now of Delavan, Wis., conducted the National Engraving Company office, in Sioux Falls.

Wallace E and Harold P., sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Olson, were sick with measles in February, and later Harold and third son Lloyd had whooping cough, and at present, Harold is much improved.

Mrs. O. C. Ellison, daughter of Mrs. M. L. Simpson, the venerable teacher of the South Dakota School, who is also elected oral teacher at the same school, is sick with abscess in her throat.

Mr. and Mrs O. C. Ellison have sold their residence, at 130 West 19th Street, Sioux Falls, last December, and are now domiciled in a rented residence, at 423 West 17th Street. They have drawn plans for their new mansion to be built this summer, about two miles west of the city or about two blocks east of Sherman Park. The excavating of the cellar is now in progress. It will be 26x38–18 ft. posts with garage and sun porch attached.

Olof. A. Olson with a force of men of Carlson-Snitkey Construction Company, are remodelling the Children's Home, Sioux Falls, one more story high.

The Olson brothers helped doing the finish work in the Hawthorne grade school, Sioux Falls, completed the job in the week of February. They were wanted to do the finish work in the public school at Flandreau after some weeks. After a considerable time of waiting to be called, but failed, E P. Olson motored to Flandreau to know if they were really wanted. The contractor said, "not at present, but later he will use them."

Some scamp ran off with a woman in Minneapolis—and it was just like Sullivan's game. Now, there is a couple (man and woman) swindling people up in Canada, and they have given the name of Sullivan among other names, and are working a game just like Sullivan has.

E. P. Olson was notified by E. P. Gibson, Grand Secretary of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, to make sure if Sullivan is still at the State Pen, Sioux Falls. On Friday noon, March 21st, Mr. Olson motored to the Pen, and saw the Deputy Warden, and learned Sullivan was released by the Governor, on January 24th. His time was up February 26th, but State's Attorney Gamble said his time expires April 18th.

On Wednesday, November 28th, Mr. Jacob Joachism, of Delmont, and Miss Margie Jones were united in holy marriage, at the First Lutheran Church, Sioux Falls, Rev. Glenn officiating at the ceremony. Mrs O C. Ellison was the interpreter. Through E. P. Olson, a special license was obtained at the coart house on the same day.

Mrs. Ed. S. Hanson, of Armour, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Werdel, of Parkston, were the witnesses. Mr. Joachism conducts shoe repairing and harness making in Delmont

On Friday afternoon, March 14, Miss Marion Karney, and Miss Evans, oral teacher of the South Dakota School, went to Omaha, in order to attend the Nebraska School basket ball team vs the Alumni team Saturday evening Friday evening Mr. Krohn, instructor in printing of the South Dakota School, went there to be one of the Alumni team. The Nebraska School team was the winner, by a 11 to 8 score. Misses Karney and Evans and Mr. Krohn returned home Monday, and enjoyed trip.

Two weeks, March 3d to 15th, during the rush E. P. Olson was employed as printer in the Canton Sioux Valley News office, on the Republican and Democrat official and sample ballots, and helped making up the forms of the Sioux Valley News, and also was the pressman. He spent nights with his old friend, Mr. N. O. N. Roe, for whom he worked on farms when he was 17 years of age, thirteen miles west of Canton.

The South Dakota Convention for the Advancement of the Deaf was held at a delightful summer resort, Lake Madison, three miles south east of Madison. August 1–4. It was unanimously voted as a most enjoyable and ideal spot for such a gathering and it was also decided that we should meet there again in 1925.

The officers for the 1925 covention as follows:—President, Chas. H. Loucks, Aberdeen; First Vice-President, Mrs. P. L. Dalgoord, Harrisburg; Second Vice-President, Mrs. A. L. Johnson, Sioux Falls; Secretary, Edward P. Olsen, Sioux Falls Treasurer, Alphonse J. Authur, Sioux Falls.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Rev. Louis C. Washburn, S. T. D., Rector of Old Christ Church, was the Lenten speaker at All Souls' Church for the Deaf, on Thursday evening, April 3d. He seemed impressed by the silent form of worship of the deaf and the literal silence that characterizes it and even went so far as to express thanks for the privilege of being able to assist at this service. In his early remarks he referred to Bishop White, the first rector of Old Christ Church, who one day found an uneducated deaf-mute on the street and immediately became interested in the education of the deaf, and was the first President of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf. His religious talk was an earnest exhortation to sober living. Dr. Washburn came to Philadelphia from Rochester, N. Y., where he had made the acquaintance of the Rev. C. O. Dantzer, and he has ever since shown a warm interest in Mr. Dantzer's work here, and was selected to preach the Consecration Sermon of the new All Souls' Church for the Deaf. He was therefore no stranger to the deaf, who were pleased to see him again

Mrs. M. J. Syle received a telegram announcing the death of Mrs Sutton, of Canada, and friend of Mrs. Nancy Moore. A few years ago Mrs. Sutton, in company with other friends, visited Mrs Moore in Philadelphia, when we had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with her. She was a charming elderly lady, and her decease is regretted now by all who had met her.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Downey was called to Lancaster, Pa., by the sudden death of her elder brother last week. We extend her sincere sympathy.

Mr. Charles H. Sharrar, the Sexton of All Souls' Church, had an attack of Grippe recently, but escaped serious complications. Mr. Sharrar had long enjoyed fairly good health, but the work of renovating the exterior and interior of the church, which has been going on for months, taxed his strength so much that he succumbed to above attack.

Mr. Alexander L Pach, of New York, is expected to lecture before the Philadelphia Local Branch, on April 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. David Singerman, of Altoona, Pa, were called to the city by the serious illness of Mrs. Singerman's father in a hospital. As soon as the crisis was passed, Mr. Singerman returned home leaving his wife behind.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lawrence, Jr., of South Easton, Pa., was in the city week before last on a visit to his parents. They returned home on Sunday night, March 30th.

Mr. Charles C. Rollinson, formerly of England, has lived hereabouts for about fifteen years. He has been naturalized and at present is living at Clifton Heights, near this city. He is employed as a furniture shipper.

At the grand spectacular carnival of junevile dancing classes, held at the Academy of Music, on the evenings of March 19th, 20th, 21st, Miss Sylvia Pollack performed two parts. On the program, she is announced as the "Deaf-Mute Dancing Marvel from the Pennsylvania Institute, Mt. Airy." A friend wrote us concerning the exhibition: In addition to taking part in several group dances, she gave a fine exhibition of two Special Dances. 1st, as the Scarecrow and then as Stars and Stripes. She accomplished her task in a very pleasing manner, and was very well received by a large and appreciative audience. The manner in which she acquitted herself, calls for great praise to her teacher, Professor Walter G. Wroe, and also credit to her for the manner in which she has mastered the finer points of dancing under her great handicap. She compares most favorably with the hearing students. She is about 15 years of age.

Six Frats were initiated into the Society at the last meeting of the local Division on April 4th. It was the occasion when the goat makes his annual visit to this Division.

Mrs. H E. Stevens is recovering from a bad cold, she recently contracted

Mr. Andrew Leitch went to Wilmington, Del., and delivered a lecture on Modern Ireland with strange stories out of History, which were enjoyed by the Wilmington Deaf-Mute Club, March 22d. He stayed over night at the home of the president of the club, and preached on Israel's rebellion at Kadish in St. Andrew's Church in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Yerkes' daughter, Mrs. Cora Staublein, gave birth to a daughter, on March 10th last. She will be named Cornelia Margrate. The family lives in Frankford, as do also the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Yerkes.

At a combined meeting of The Committee on Deaf of the Council of Jewish Women, The Daughters of Beth Israel, and The Beth Israel Association of the Deaf, encouraging addresses were delivered by both hearing and deaf persons. It may be only a short time when the Hebrew deaf will hold their meetings in the fine new Hebrew Community House on Broad Street, near Pine Street.

Mrs. Susan O'Neil, of Phoenixville, Pa., visited her former schoolmate, Mrs. Charles M. Pennell, on Sunday, March 23d last. They had not seen each other for about fifteen years, and hence were delighted to see each other again.

The Knights and Ladies of De l'Epee, Philadelphia Council No. 8, will give a Spring Social Party at the Grand Fraternity Building, 1626 Arch Street, on Saturday evening, April 26th. Games will be played and prizes awarded. Admission, 25 cents.

Mr. John E. Gallaudet, a distant relative of the Gallaudets, sent a check for $65.00 to All Souls' Church for a needed improvement. Mr. Gallaudet is an Episcopal minister without a church, giving his whole time to business. He formerly lived on Allegheny Avenue, near the Church, but a couple of years ago, moved to Tioga Street. His gift to All Souls' is greatly appreciated.

Edward Cashell, of Camden, N. J., made a bicycle trip to Miami, Florida, last November and remained South until early this Spring, when he returned again on his trusty bicycle. The trip took two weeks each way with many stops.

Samuel Gatson, who came to America from Belfast, Ireland, about five months ago, is at present located in Philadelphia. Here he met his former classmate, John C. Robinson. They had a happy meeting, as can be imagined.

The Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Society meets at 1538 N. Dover Street, on Monday evening, April 14th. Vice-President Smielau will preside.

Mr. J. A. McIlvaine, Jr., is keeping "bachelor's hall" at present.

FANWOOD.

On Saturday, March 29th, Cadet Captain Joseph Mazzola and Cadet Adjutant Joseph Krassner visited the shop of Mr. Harry Bellin, a Fanwood graduate of five years ago. Harry set up a sign painting business, so he has become a sign painter and made a success of his work.

Last Tuesday, the 1st inst., we had very cold and stormy weather all day,

On Monday evening, the 30th ult., Cadet Color Sergeant Edmund Hicks was very much surprised that the Proteans celebrated his birthday by a party.

Since April 1st, the boys have not played outdoors, on account of the snow. They passed their leisure hours playing ping-pong, crinockle, etc, and reading books.

Dr. Charles A Leale, of the Board of Directors, was a visitor and was shown around by Principal Gardner, on Thursday afternoon, April 3d.

On Tuesday evening, April 1st, Corporals Marie Ferguson and Avis Allen were given a surprise party by the Adrastians, in honor of their birthdays.

Friday afternoon, April 11th, Mr. Daniel Lazarowitz, a graduate of this school, made a short visit. He was recently forced out of work as a union sign-painter, because of the sign painting strike. He said that it will probably end in a week or so.

As soon as they get their Easter vacation, Lieutenants Carl Frisch (not the ball player of the Giants), and Spellman plan going to Newark, N. J., where the bicycle race will soon be opened.

Last Saturday afternoon Cadet Kahn succeeded in striking a ball over the fence from the home plate four times. The pupils were much astonished. They inquired why he shouldn't join the Senior Fanwood team.

ROBERT AND RUDOLPH.

Thomas-Leveck Engagement Announced.

Mrs. W. H. Davis, at the meeting of the P. A. S. Club at her home, 1205 Newning Avenue, Thursday afternoon, announced the engagement of one of the club members, Miss Margaret Mary Leveck, of Flint, Mich., to John White Thomas principal of the State School for the Deaf in this city. Miss Leveck has been since last September a teacher in the same school. The marriage will take place in June.

The afternoon was spent in playing hearts. The decorations were in pink and white. Refreshments were served.—Austin, Texas, Statesman, March 30.

"It is a pleasure to know that Editor Hodgson of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL has so far recovered from his long illness as to be able to resume his editorial duties.

"Should his health permit him to continue at his desk two years longer Mr. Hodgson will have rounded out fifty years of service to the deaf of this country, and when the time comes when he feels that it is necessary to retire, he can do so with the consciousness of having given the deaf world his best service, whether as a teacher of printing or as editor of the best newspaper the deaf world ever had."—Editorial in the Silent Worker.

PITTSBURGH.

The Pittsburgh Branch of the N. A. D. had a business meeting, March 29th, the attendance indicating the association has a good hold on the local deaf. The office of Secretary-Treasurer was left vacant by the death of Mr. Frank R. Gray, who had served in that capacity for a long time. After some discussion it was decided to separate the double office, as the work had proved too much for one man. Mr. Archibald Hartin was elected Secretary, and Mr. John Craig, Treasurer. A committee of three, F. A. Leitner, F. M. Holliday, and J. C. Forbes, were appointed to go over the books of the late secretary-treasurer and put the two offices in simple and workable order for the new men. The rule forbidding a man to hold two offices created a vacancy on the Board of Directors, and Mr. Fred Allen was chosen in Mr. Hartin's place. Mr. William L. Dawhill, a N. A. D. man to the core, made a suggestion that a union picnic be held this coming summer, all the different associations to share equally in the profits. The idea met with unanimous favor. However, no action could be taken as the wishes of the other associations had to be known first. Before the meeting adjourned the following resolution was read:—

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in His infinite wisdom to remove our faithful Secretary-Treasurer, Frank Ross Gray, we, a committee appointed by President Samuel Nichols, present the following preamble and resolution:

Frank R. Gray became State Organizer and Secretary-Treasurer in 1915 and served until the time of his death. All that time he was an enthusiastic worker, acting chairman on several occasions and always gave the members of the Pittsburg Branch of the National Association of the Deaf good advice in his talks to them. He was a true friend and adviser to the deaf. Funeral services were conducted at a chapel and many members attended the obsequies of our departed friend. The National Association of the Deaf and the Pittsburgh Branch will always be a memorial to his untiring efforts for the uplift of the deaf, and his memory will always be cherished by his associates in this good work.

We therefore, offer the following:

Resolved, That we extend to Mrs. Richard Evans, sister of the deceased, and family, our sincere sympathy in their great loss, and trust that God will give them His strength and comfort in their affliction. Be it, further,

Resolved, That this preamble and resolution be spread upon the minutes of our branch of the National Association of the Deaf, and a copy be sent to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, and the sister, Mrs. Richard Evans.

G. W. TEEGARDEN,
VINCENT DUNN,
MRS. MAY HAVENS.

It has been with effort that Samuel Nichols has been carrying himself about for a month, rheumatism in his underpinnings being the latest addition to the sum total of his earthly ills.

After building a house in a high class residential street, Mr. Jesse Baker has bought a Ford to start with. Wise guy to think of house first, then auto. There are many people who should, but do not do that. Some even go so far as to have their houses mortgaged in order to get a car.

Herbert Bellows is employed by the Mohican Co., fruit dealers, and works from 12 to 18 hours a day, seven days in the week. Now it has come to light why he has been so little seen among us. How a man past middle age can do that is beyond the writer's comprehension.

William J. Gibson and Jacob Hess were victims of auto accidents a short time ago. Fortunately neither resulted in serious consequences. Mr. Gibson was taken to the hospital in the truck that was the responsible party and his wounds, which consisted mainly of a sprained ankle, were dressed. It is now three weeks since he has been incapacitated from work, but he expects to return in a few days. He had a good case to sue for damages, but the firm that employed the truck not only paid his hospital bills, but also gave him an extra sum, which more than made up for his loss of wages. Thus the case was settled out of court to the satisfaction of both parties Mr. Hess only suffered a slight scratch on the head and the loss of two lower teeth, but enough to warrant suing for damages. It is understood the case is to be taken to court.

At the business meeting of the Pittsburgh Division, No. 36, April 5th, Charles Reiser was reported on the sick list, but as convalescing now. William E Dean's application was passed on. The big feature was the election of delegates to the St. Paul convention, John L. Friend, the popular big gun of the branch, getting first honor, James K. Forbes was elected alternate and Sam Rogalski second alternate. All these three have been live wire frats. and deserve the honors conferred upon them. It is hoped the selections will bring about good results.

The stork in making his rounds stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Book, of new Brighton, and left a girl baby on March 16th. A few days later Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burkhart were favored with a similar deposit. Congratulations!

The Sinners' Parade

Two young men were seated together in the early morning train. "Monday," said one with a little laugh, "and I'm more tired than I was on Saturday night. I drove down to the shore yesterday in my new car. Never again for me!"

"Have trouble?" the other asked.

"No, but you know what that road is like on Sunday. I'd seen the cars going through our town, but I never realized that at the height of the home-coming traffic there was a line of cars almost end to end mile after mile from the city by the sea all the way across the State to the ferries—the 'sinners' parade,' some one in a car that stood near my own in a jam called it jeeringly.

"Do you know, that phrase stuck in my mind. But of course they were not all sinners; no doubt some were preachers, church workers and doctors on their various errands. Let's be charitable. But I can't get away from the thought of the noise, the dust, the un-Sabbathlike gayety and worldliness of the crowds, the many disabled cars and one accident when several persons were seriously hurt. And that phrase, 'sinners' parade! I was in it and with no good excuse, no worthy object. I'll never be in it again!"

The speaker's fine young face flushed. "Don't think I'm a coward," he continued, "that I am afraid of getting hurt physically. I can take my chances with the rest. But I am afraid of hurts that go deeper. I'm afraid to parade with the sinners when I ought to be in church with the saints!"

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

It is the custom to send out notices of births, birthdays, engagements, weddings, wedding anniversaries, house-warmings, etc., with a hint thinly veiled or plainly made out that presents are acceptable. I am a bachelor and think it within my rights, but will not announce that my pantry, treasury and wardrobe need restocking, as this JOURNAL has not the space to print in fine type the list of generous donors. I am too modest and retiring.

The Anderson and Wohlparth Furniture Manufacturing Co. has at last been incorporated. Permits have been asked for the sale of stock. An offer of three acres of land from the Chamber of Commerce of Pico, makes necessary only 3½ acres additional to be purchased. The articles of incorporation give the company wide powers, and the by-laws adopted seem to safeguard the interests of the deaf stockholder. Mr. Anderson writes, "It will go thru." As I have written before, the twenty per cent immediate and the 100 per cent prospective dividends, appear to me too much like the usual "get-rich-quick" promises and bait. If this organization is honestly and intelligently managed and staunchly supported through difficulties, it may ultimately make a big success. Co-operative societies with sound business management have made enviable records in the past, with immense and lasting benefits to the members and to the people generally. It is now up to the A. W. F. M. Co. to make good and show the way to other organization of the deaf. Push and pull and work. Here's to the company—may it work. But I want it understood I am not advising you to invest. You must use your own judgment. Go to your banker or advising club or paper and ask. Inquire, study, think, go slow, be sure, but then stick. For its success will depend on your help, advice, criticism and spirit.

The Dilles nearly got marooned in the unexpected snow storm near Lake Arrowhead. They got out because they chose to fight instead of to freeze.

There was snow in parts of Los Angeles City Sunday.

The Frank Robertses may move to their cabin in Tuna Canyon the first of the month.

Albert G. Munro has had 500 business cards advertising his shoe-shop, printed by Norman Lewis. The Lewis work is productive of results as business picked up before the type was set. Fact.

Arnold Kiene is back in Dubuque, Iowa.

Scheffler and Buel have gone east in the latter's car. Here's hoping they pulled through the snow and mud safely.

Norman V. Lewis celebrated his birthday today. The art of growing young is easy with him, as he is seventy-two years young. He was born, March 27th, 1852, in Toronto, Canada. He first learned the trade of printing at 13½ years years of age, and was a journeyman apprentice for several years. He worked in many of the biggest and best newspaper and commerical printing shops in Canada and the United States. Next November he will have completed 58 years of service as a printer. He published the Silent Nation, one year in Toronto, and it was easily one of the best in editorial, news, and general typography. For 36 years he has been in business for himself, his shop growing by additions, till now it is considered one of the best equipped job shops, turning out fine work. He built his own home as his own contractor, working by blue print and employing day labor. He is versatile, intelligent, and well read. Religion is a strong point with him. May Norman Lewis live to see his century and more. He takes the day off to celebrate in a spree of joy riding.

I have been to see to Norman V. Lewis' museum of antiquities and art gallery. He has a collection bound in newspaper size, of wood engravings of the days, before the electrotype and and photo engraving. He has a numismatic collection started 35 years ago. He also has a coin collection, quaint and illustrative of by-ages. He has three pipes in figured meerschaum that have always enthused the nicotine devotee. There is a collection of bound volumes of domestic and foreign papers for the deaf. He has packs of playing cards out of the common run, with illustrations of scenes and persons, that show fine artistic taste and work. This place is a sight worth seeing in the many and varied interests and relics.

Norman V. Lewis is an example of devotion to art, persistence, willingness to learn, patience and wide-awakeness. The success he has earned in substance, name and fame, he has well earned.

The rains have come and soaked the ground. Now Spring work will be rushed and crops assured for the coming season.

CHICAGO.

It makes my blessed bosom beat
And bound and bump and glow
Whene'er I read—oh, message sweet,
The lissom line below;
With boundless joy this line I hail—
"ED SULLIVAN IS BACK IN JAIL!!!"

That merry kidder, "Kidder," that "The Hansons" wrote about in their Seattle column, and who gave the Meaghers as references, has been identified as the notorious Eddie Sullivan, formerly of Illinois.

He is reported serving a six months sentence in an Oregon jail, and on his release is believed to be facing a Mann Act charge—for luring a deaf woman, of Minneapolis, away from home and transporting her around the country.

This Eddie Sullivan was released in January, after serving some nine months of a one-year-term in the South Dakota penitentiary. He victimized his way clear across Canada, variously claiming to have been sent by Editor Hodgson of his paper to collect money for deaf orphans in Germany; or as repesentative of Chicago frat division; or as sent by Gibson for ???—anyhow his schemes generally netted him from $1 to $25 from every deaf person accosted. Canada got too hot for him, so he came to Seattle from Vancouver, started down the Coast, and was nabbed when he got too smart—claiming he was Asa Stutsman, a Gallaudet graduate, unknowing the Lindstrom he was bragging to, was himself a contemporary college-mate of the real Stutsman.

He has tried such schemes before—and will likely try them again when he gets out in a few years. He was the chief thorn in my side when I headed the Impostor Bureau of the National Association of the Deaf. So far his guardian angel has hovered lovingly over him—but I'll write a deathless paen of praise to the deaf man who finally puts an effectively-ringed "30" to the name "Eddie Sullivan, worse-than-impostor?"

MUTE MANAGER PILOTS BOXER

"Chicago now can boast of a deaf and dumb fighter with a deaf and dumb manager.

"The fighter is Dummy Whurley, featherweight, and the manager Fred Meinken, of Cicero. Meinken writes asking that a few words be printed about his charge. Whurley bars none at his weight. He is just back from California and is available for battle on one day's notice.

"Meinken gained considerable fame in the east as the manager of deaf and dumb fighters. His most notable charge was Silent Martin.

"If Meinken would only dig up some mute seconds to replace the noisy birds who infest every bout. —Chicago Journal, April 8th.

The Herald and Examiner next day had a "Phairism": "Gradually the world improves. We have with us a deaf and dumb fight manager." (This is poking fun, not at the deaf, but at the fight-managers—nearly every time I pass Phair's desk he is trying to be civil to one or more pests, who are trying to persuade him to give their boxers a "puff in de poiper."

This "Dummy Whurley" is Otto Mallman, 130-lbs, whom fraters remember for knocking me to dreamland in one round, during the smoker in the big 1920 "Fraternival." (By the way, what has become of those "Fraternivals" in this—the city which gave birth to "Fraternival idea?")

On the 21st, the Meaghers gave a "500" party to the Charles J. Schmidts, late of Akron and anon, of Florida. Nice prizes were awarded Mrs. Dougherty and Mrs. O'Neil, "Chuck" Schmidt himself receiving a fine "booby" token.

The last day of March the Ernest Craigs gave an April Fool's party for the Schmidts, two dozen partaking of the dainty menu. Handerchiefs tacked to the floor, candy in a jar labeled "Poison", and which fools who refused to be fooled thereby soon found was filled with red pepper, salt and cotton; lovely roses to sniff—there was snuff hidden in them, "Wet paint" signs, etc., enlivened the hours. Craig sprung a brand new game which is destined to become a standard staple in home-parties. Six mouse-traps, of the five or ten cent kind, and twelve wooden cloth pins are all the appartus needed. Traps are set and placed in a row ten feet away from the thrower, who tries to toss the cloth pins, one at a time, so that they spring the traps. Hitting a trap so that it springs, counts two points. A clothes pin actually caught in the trap (held in the trap, held in the vise of the wire snap) counts five points. During the entire evening only one clothes pin was "caught"—one of Mrs. Schmidt's. The number of "sprung" traps ranged from none to four. It is harder than it looks—and amazingly exciting for such a simple stunt.

DEAF GIRL WINS BASKET TITLE

"BLOOMINGTON, IND, April 1—Ethel Mandel, pupil in the Indiana State School for the Deaf, was proclaimed girls' free-throw champion of Indiana basketball at the first annual tournament conducted by Indiana University. She won by tossing thirty-three out of fifty shots from the foul line through the netting.

"A perfect score of fifty goals out of fifty attempts gave Herbert Havens of Lebanon the boys' championship."

Sydney Howard, the Conductorus Emeritus of this column, is thriving in San Martin, California, as kodak prints evince. Gained 20-lbs since leaving us three years ago. Chess is still his sole vice. Sydney proves he remembers the ropes, or "how to bust into print," by sending the present column conductor a box of delicious shelled walnuts. Howard states he was awakened at 3:40 A.M., March 9th, by a tremor, as if someone was moving around in the room. When daylight came, he found the clock had stopped at 3:40. When the papers were delivered, he read a glowing account of the "EARTHQUAKE AT 3:40!!!" But even that warning from Providence fails to prompt Sydney to leave California and return to the bosom of his beloved Chicago. He is lost to us forever—he's forever to us lost!

The St. James M. E. Church, which burned on the 4th, and will cost half a million to rebuild, is where the Rev. P. J. Hasenstab last fall celebrated his 30th anniversary of ordination to the ministry.

Chairman Mrs. O'Neil lured the biggest crowd yet to her Sac "lit" of the 6th; over seventy-five members. "Bobs" Roberts was the headliner, but George Ross and his funny stories ran a hot second.

On April 2d, Dr. George T. Dougherty entertained a crowd at All Angels' parish house, with an account of "The Search for the Holy Grail."

Mrs. Jennie Gallagher has gone to California, to remain until the summer.

Edwin Hazel, of Omaha, was seen in town on the 10th.

Twelve new members joined the Pas-a-Pas Club at the April meeting, and twelve in March. President Charles Kemp is proving a revelation when it comes to handling parliamentary assemblages.

It was rumored a deaf man—denied re-employment at the new Ford plant in Hegewisch, Chicago suburb—beat-up the foreman. As this would harm the chances of all future deaf applicants at that plant, I wrote to the Ford branch for verification, intending to see that the guilty party was promptly "fired" from the silent organizations. Under date of March 31st, Employment Superintendent W. P. Minnick states this rumor "is entirely unfounded, as we have experienced no trouble whatever along those lines."

Dates ahead: April 19—Frat social at Sac. 26—Sac ball.

THE MEAGHERS.

WHEELING, W. VA

Mr. Joseph Dewey LaMotte, on third day of April, was run over by a truck in Cleveland, O., at 3 o'clock, in crossing a street. He failed to see a policeman's signal (evidence being secured later.) Besides broken neck and several wounds, his abdomen was levelled by the heavy wheel.

The accident was telegraphed to J. C. Bremer within the same hour, and then the killed mute's home in Bridgeport, O., was notified. Great shock and grief were felt at the sad report.

The remains were brought late Saturday afternoon, to be viewed Sunday. His funeral took place Monday afternoon. The biggest attendance ever seen before of different races—French, Austrians, Polish, Italians and Americans—with whom he was very popular. It was in charge of Rev. G. W. Brynes, of Lansing, O., M. E. Church, being assisted by Lay-reader Bremer, acting as interpreter to a large number of deaf-mutes, who were seated in a reserved family room.

Inspiringly sung were: "There is a Home Eternal," "It is well with my Soul," and "Abide with Me," followed by a brief address.

The gray casket was profuse with floral tributes; prominence being given to the floral offering from St. Elizabeth's Guild; Wheeling Silent Club, of which the deceased was president; Eastern Ohio Advance Society and Ladies' Aid Society.

About twenty automobiles and a special street car made a very long procession to Linwood Cemetery, Blaine, O., where the last rites were observed.

The pall-bearers, of Joseph's youthful years (24 years) were William Norris Herrold, Lawrence Knuth, Charles Vanole, William Schuback, Lloyd Humes and Leon Moreland.

He went away about the time of St. Valentine's Day, in search of work, but not succeed, till transportation was furnished for home on the morning of the day, he got killed. His life was very eventful. When he was a little boy, he was run over by a wagon. He once narrowly escaped while playing, from a train on the railroad back of his dwelling. He had blood sores contracted at the rubber works in Akron, from which suffered long. He received many cuts in a butcher's job. He was held up in a grocery store about two years ago, and was robbed about nineteen dollars.

He was of French descent, the distinction being always admired in the deaf circles. He was educated in Columbus, O., School. He took an active part in the civic affairs of the school's organization. He will be sorely missed.

FLINT.

After occupying the rooms at 426 Buckham Street, for the past five years, the Flint Social Club had to vacate them April 1st, and is now located in rooms at 124 West Kearsley Street, upstairs. The telephone company, which took over the lease of the old club rooms at Buckham Street, and also leased a large part of the Sterner building, desired to have the rooms in order to have them re-arranged and fitted up for its own use. Although the new quarters are a trifle smaller than the old ones, they are well suited to the club needs and purpose—for the present at least. The club is looking forward to a very busy and profitable year.

During the year just past the club had numerous social affairs and events, which added to the comfort and enjoyment of its members. The first was a Hallowe'en party, held on Saturday evening, October 28th. It was in charge of Wilfred Vick (chairman), Gordon Mayne and Mrs. William Heck Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Mrs. Robert L. Erd and Howard L. Pettit.

Interest was lent to the occasion by the presence of Ziao Fong Hsia, a deaf Chinese student. Mr. Hsia was visiting in this city and took advantage of attending the party.

While in town Mr. Hsia gave a very interesting hand spelling talk, at the School for the Deaf. An informal reception was tendered him by a few of the deaf of the city on the evening prior to his departure for his home in the Orient.

A bazaar, engineered by Mrs. M. J. Rozboril, formerly of Binghampton, N. Y., was held in the club rooms a week later. It netted the club coffers a handsome sum.

Then a number of entertainments and parties followed throughout the winter season, which helped to swell the club treasury. Under the able and energetic charge of Mrs. R. L. Erd a varied comical program of dialogues, dances, and other features, entitled "The Band-Box Revue of 1924," was presented in the early part of February for the benefit of the Flint Chapter of the Michigan Association of the Deaf. The program consisted of the following numbers:

A Spanish dance, "The Highland Fling," by Mildred Stoddard, of Fenton.
"The End of a Perfect Day," by Mrs. William B. Snell, accompained by Mrs. Marion Lawrason Greenwald.
"Happy Hooligan" by Don Andrews.
"A Street Car Romance."
"We Come to See Miss Jennie Jones."
"Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," by Mr. Otto Buby and Mr. Oren DeChamplain.
"In a Phongraph Gallery."
Charades and Impersonations.

The sum realized, $31.05, was applied to the welfare fund.

On the evening of February 16th, a vaudeville was staged under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Dasse. The following week "An Evening in Old Chinatown" was held under the guidance of the club president George F. Tripp. It was a merry, jolly evening. These two events netted the club nearly one hundred dollars.

On the evening of March 8th the Flint Branch of the National Association of the Deaf held its bi-monthly meeting, at which a very interesting program was given. Mr. Stewart told of the water problem in Flint, which, indeed, requires a man of broad views and a vision far ahead in the future to solve. This is occasioned by the tremendous growth of the city and its steadily increasing population.

A banquet was held on Saturday evening, February 1st, at the Masonic Temple, in honor of the memory of Dr. Francis D. Clarke, and was attended by about eighty friends of the greatly beloved one-time superintendent of the school for the deaf here. January 31st, was the annniversary of Dr. Clarke's birthday, but owing to the fact that the dining room at the Masonic Temple was engaged by some other society it was necessary to postpone the banquet until the next evening. It was fitting that the banquet should be held in the Masonic Temple which Dr. Clarke took a prominent part in building. It was Dr. Clarke's custom on his birthday to present every pupil, teacher and employe of the school with an orange, and the day came to be known as "Orange Day" Oranges had a prominent place on the menu and the place cards bore the miniature of Dr. Clarke.

Several toasts were tendered and responded to, the first being given by Mrs. Robert L. Erd with a beautiful tribute to Dr. Clarke as a man. In responding to the toast, "Dr. Clarke as a Superintendent," George F. Tripp characterized the late doctor as one of the greatest educators the country has ever produced, and stated that it had been the wish of Dr. Clarke to found a college where the deaf could get a technical education.

James M. Stewart spoke of Dr. Clarke as a teacher and lauded the methods he employed in developing the minds of the deaf. He told how Dr. Clarke, though his great love for humanity, had turned aside from a much more remunerative career as civil engineer to devote his life to the cause of the deaf.

Mrs J. M. Stewart paid a beautiful tribute to Dr. Clarke as a friend, and stated that he was a good mixer, equally at home with the high and low.

When "Fighting Bob" Evans, then admiral of the United States Navy, visited Dr Clarke at the school in 1907, four of the pupils recited the poem "Old Ironsides," this famous vessel having been Admiral Evans' training ship. Two of the former pupils George Pifer and Philip Schreiber, were present and were called on to recite the poem again, which they did and elicited applause from those present.

Mrs. Fred A. Lawrason gave some amusing reminiscences of Dr. Clarke. Otto W. Buby followed with a few remarks attesting to the high esteem in which Dr. Clarke was held by people in all walks of life.

The last on the program was a response by Francis H. Rankin, who was a member of the board of trustees of the Michigan School for the Deaf during a portion of the time Dr. Clarke was at the head of the school, the toast being "Dr. Clarke as a Mason." Mr. Rankin paid a splendid tribute to Dr. Clarke, who brought so much to Masonry. After telling of the doctor's rapid rise in Masonry, he praised his work at the school where they had long been associated together. Mr. Rankin's ready wit kept his hearers convulsed most of the time.

Mrs. M. J. Rozboril, who has been sojourning in Texas for the past three months, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abernathy, of Dallas, is expected home the first week in May. Mrs. Rozboril and Mrs. Abernathy were classmates at the Northampton School for the Deaf under Miss Yale, and the two are great pals. In a recent letter from her Mrs. Rozboril wrote of visiting the school for the deaf at Austin, Texas.

Edward Flatt, hailing from near Rochester, N. Y., has been spending the winter in this city, and is still here.

John Gotthelf, who for the past two years has been employed on the Gazette at Kalamzoo, is now keying the linotype ivories at the Journal here His brother Maurice also is employed on the Journal as telegraph operator.

John Tripp of this city (no relation of our energetic club present) was recently operated upon for appendicitis He is reported to be well on the road to recovery.

At a surprise party given at the home of Misses Mildred and Virginia Trine, two weeks ago, the engagement of Miss Virginia and Mr. Andrew Gilbert, both of this city, was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Liddy, of Windsor, Ont., visited friends in this city for a couple of days the latter part of March.

Mrs Emma A. DeMotte died on March 11th, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Marsh Dell, on Josephine Street at the age of 80 Mrs. DeMotte had been in failing health for the past two years. She was born in Herkimer, N Y., July 25th, 1843, lost her hearing in early life, and attended the New York Institution. After graduation she was called to this city by Principal Egbert L Bangs to become a member of the teaching staff, in the department for the deaf, in the latter part of the sixties She was united in mrrriage to Mr William H DeMotte in 1870. Of the union three daughters were born, Mrs. Ida Lewis of Riverside, Cal., Mrs. Linda Long of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. Cora Dell, of this city. Mrs. DeMotte was a woman of charming and refined personality. She leaves a large circle of friends in this city to mourn her passing. Her remains were interred in Glenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Ray Klock's mother died on February. 1st. She was prominently identified with the G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps for many years.

At the the February meeting of Flint Division, N. F. S. D., Fred A. Lawrason was elected to represent the divison at the St. Paul convention next July, with Philip L. Schreiber as alternate.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Margaret M. Leveck to the principal of the school for the deaf at Austin, Texas, was received with surprise in this city. Miss Leveck was one of the valued members of the teaching staff at the school here for many years. Greater remuneration induced her to accept a position at the Texas school last year.

Greenwich observatory, known and used by the scientific world, is to be moved from Greenwich to Holmbury Hill. Electrification of a railway line running near by necessitated the change. The observatory was built in 1675, for the advancement of navigation and nautical astronomy. "Greenwich time" is the world's standard.
